Course Overview

This course is tailored for workers in non-construction industries such as manufacturing, healthcare, warehousing, and retail. The OSHA 10-Hour General Industry course introduces basic safety and health principles, focusing on hazard recognition, prevention strategies, and OSHA standards. Key topics include hazard communication (HAZCOM), ergonomics, machine guarding, and walking-working surfaces. It's ideal for entry-level employees who want to foster a safer workplace. Students who successfully complete the training will receive an OSHA 10-Hour General Industry DOL card.

Who Should Take This Course:

- Warehouse workers and forklift operators
- Manufacturing and production staff
- Healthcare support staff
- Maintenance and janitorial personnel

Time to Completion

You have 180 calendar days from the date of enrollment to complete the 10-hour General Industry Outreach Training. If the course is not completed within this period, your account will expire, and you will need to repurchase the course to continue.

Lesson Quizzes

After completing each lesson, you'll be required to take a brief quiz to test your understanding of the material. A passing score is necessary in order to unlock and proceed to the next lesson.

Final Exam

After completing all modules, you must take a final exam to earn full credit for the course. This exam consists of 20 questions and covers material from the entire course. A passing score is 70% or higher. You have three chances to pass the final exam. If you do not pass after the third attempt, you will be locked out and unable to complete your outreach training.

DOL Card

Upon successfully completing the course, you can immediately print a temporary certificate with a QR code. This serves as proof of completion until you receive your official OSHA DOL Card. The DOL card is typically mailed within two weeks.

To receive your official DOL Card, you must complete the end-of-course survey.
